

Buy&Custom-made quality diamond segments/tips

In order to lower cost and avoid waste, many people buy diamond segments and weld them on the steel blank core.

According to segment types, there are orderly arrayed segment (Arrix segment), regular segment and sandwich segment, every type is designed for differential stone or other materials to reduce segment cost and increase cutting efficiency.

Our diamond segments are applicable for hard stone like granite, marble, andesite and construction material like concrete, asphalt, brick, porcelain, special glass and fireproof material.

Our main market is Europe, America, Middle-East, and so on. We accept OEM orders from the developed countries in Europe and America.

Please inform us the sizes of diamond segment/tip and saw blank and the object to cut. We have own development and research department, our technicians allocate the most suitable formula according to user's requirement.
